Becoming a Good Creature

Author: Sy Montgomery

Illustrator: Rebecca Green

Grades: PK-3

Pre-Reading Activity

Ask your students to think of a lesson they have learned from a trusted adult. Have students share with the class, and then explain that as they listen to the book, Becoming a Good Creature, they will learn new lessons from unlikely creatures. As they listen, have them pay attention to the lessons and be ready to share at the end of the read-aloud.

Post-Reading Activity

Ask students to think-pair-share about the lesson they learned from a trusted adult that they thought of before listening to the read-aloud. Is there a creature that exhibits that lesson in their behavior? Have your students create their own narrative/story about what they could learn from another creature. Have the students use color, imagery, words, and fonts to express the lesson on a poster. Hang these posters around the school to inspire other students.
